
University policy requires that you register your bicycle with UM Police; registration is a free service available to the entire University community. If your bicycle is ever lost, stolen or confiscated for non-compliance with any bicycle policy, registration will aid UM Police in identifying you as the owner and returning your bicycle.

If you have any questions concerning bicycle safety, please contact the University of Miami Police Department at (305)284-6666

How To Secure Your Bicycle

Rules Of The Road

To reduce the opportunity of bicycle theft on campus, University policy requires all bicycles not in use to be secured to a designated bicycle rack with a UMPD issued U-lock . All students, faculty and staff who register their bicycle with UM Police are given one U-lock free of charge. U-style bicycle locks are more effective at preventing theft than traditional cable or chain locks. Register your bike at umpd.miami.edu by clicking the "Register Your Bicycle" button. Pick up your sticker and free U-lock at UMPD which is open 24/7.

When you secure your bicycle to a designated bike rack , be sure to secure the lock around a closed section of the bicycle frame, not a tire, seat, or other removable part . Never leave your bicycle unattended or unsecured, even if it's just for a minute. That's all the time a thief needs to hop on and ride away . Remember, bicycles must be secured to designated bicycle racks. It is against University policy to secure your bicycle to anything else.

Did you know that in the State of Florida, bicycles are considered vehicles? As a result, cyclists are bound to many of the same laws as drivers. It is important to follow the rules of the road when riding your bicycle, it can save your life:

- Wear a bicycle helmet at all times
- Ride with traffic, to the side of the road. Obey all road signs
- Wear brightly colored clothing
- Pay attention to vehicles around you and never assume a motor vehicle driver will yield to you
- Never wear headphones while cycling
